Up Your Festival Game

For 45 years, the Vancouver International Wine Festival has been introducing festivalgoers to new and exciting wineries and wines. This year is no exception. One quarter of the 147 participating wineries are making their festival debut, and three-quarters of the wines at the International Festival Tastings are not regularly available in the marketplace.

If you've only ever been to our International Festival Tastings, why not try something new yourself? Our wine minglers are a fun way to explore a region, with paired light bites and music making the party complete. If you're looking to learn more about wine, our seminars take a deep dive into issues, trends, regions, and grape varieties with experts in the field. Learn about California's terroir-driven wines, the sustainable wines of Languedoc-Roussillon in the south of France, and discover some of the world's great vineyards.
